

Violet has turned violet!

Violet Beauregarde is now a blueberry!

Last night, a wierd report has claimed that violet Beauregarde, a child that loves bubble gum, has turned into a blueberry after eating a mysterious & delicious * strip of bubble gum inside a closed chocolate factory.

Mr Wonka, who owns the factory, said to reporting team: "Today I let 5 lucky children into my factory becdu se a few years ago I went out of buisness and guess what? Two have already broken the rules (actually one, the other was my fault)."

When the children came inside they have claimed to have seen rivers and trees made out of chocolate, as Charlie Bucket, another one of the lucky children reported: "I saw rivers and a valley where a variety of chocolate things grow as well as little people called Oompa-Loompas and they were all (apart from the Oompa-Loompas) were made out of chocolate."

Violet Beauregardes mum, Mrs Beauregarde said to us: "Mr Wonka should have told us that turned you into a blueberry!"

Mr Beauregarde also stated: "I AM APALLED BY MR WONKAS BEHAVIOUR!"

Currently, the race is now on to find a cure and to turn her back into a child.
