My 2nd poem - The holiday box

I will put in my box,
A Sparkly rock from the top of everest,
Stripy fur from a cute Snow leopard,
And a sticky sprig from the slopes of the Andes.

I will put in my box,
One grain of sand from the elegant Bondi beach,
A hard claw from a red crab,
And some rosemary from the isle of white.

I will put in my box
The whole Statue of a Sphinx and the <sup>Great</sup> pyramid of Giza,
A camel roaming around in the Sahara desert,
And a blue water lily floating about in the red sea.

I will put in my box,
Julius Caesar and his favourite soldiers,
The buried town of Pompeii,
And all it's lost treasures

I will put in my box,
Hercules, Odysseus and Alexander the great,
A beautiful rock sample from the top of Mt Olympus,
And walrus from the far North of Greece

My box is made of memories and thoughts,
With little mountains in the corners and beaches to the side,
It has pugS on the lid and pictures on the outside

I Shall toboggan in my box,
Down to the Dazzling city of London,
And there I go and explore big ben,
Before drinking some lovely orange juice.

My 3rd poem - The animal box

I will put in my box,
A very cute baby pug,
An enormous African Elephant,
And a medium sized hippopotamus,
I will put in my box,
A freezing cold feather from a penguin,
The mighty, big Ostrich
And the tiny beaks of a hummingbird

I will put in my box,
A slithering black mamba,
The tooth of a Komodo dragon,
And a angry Saltwater crocodile.

I will put in my box,
The leg of a toad,
An amazingly cute Salamander,
And the egg of a common newt.

I will put in my box,
The venom of a stonefish,
A tooth of a great white shark, and a harmless clamfish.

I will put in my box,
a Southern black widow spider,
a beautiful monarch butterfly,
and the tentacles of a aggressive box jellyfish.

My box is built out of the skins of a anaconda, with a jungle inside and ant nests in the corners,
It is full with amazing butterflies and spiders.

I will feast in my box,
with a cute mountain gorilla,
Then ride on an elephant.
The cutest Earth has ever seen
